

Dallas? Whose Dallas? Looking Beyond the Numbers Tells The Story We Need to Know.

Our Neighborhoods Are Segregated. . . Still

Number of Neighborhoods by Racial and Ethnic Majority

Only 22% of Dallas neighborhoods are diverse with no group in majority. 32% of Dallas neighborhoods are Latinx, 30% are White, and 16% are Black.

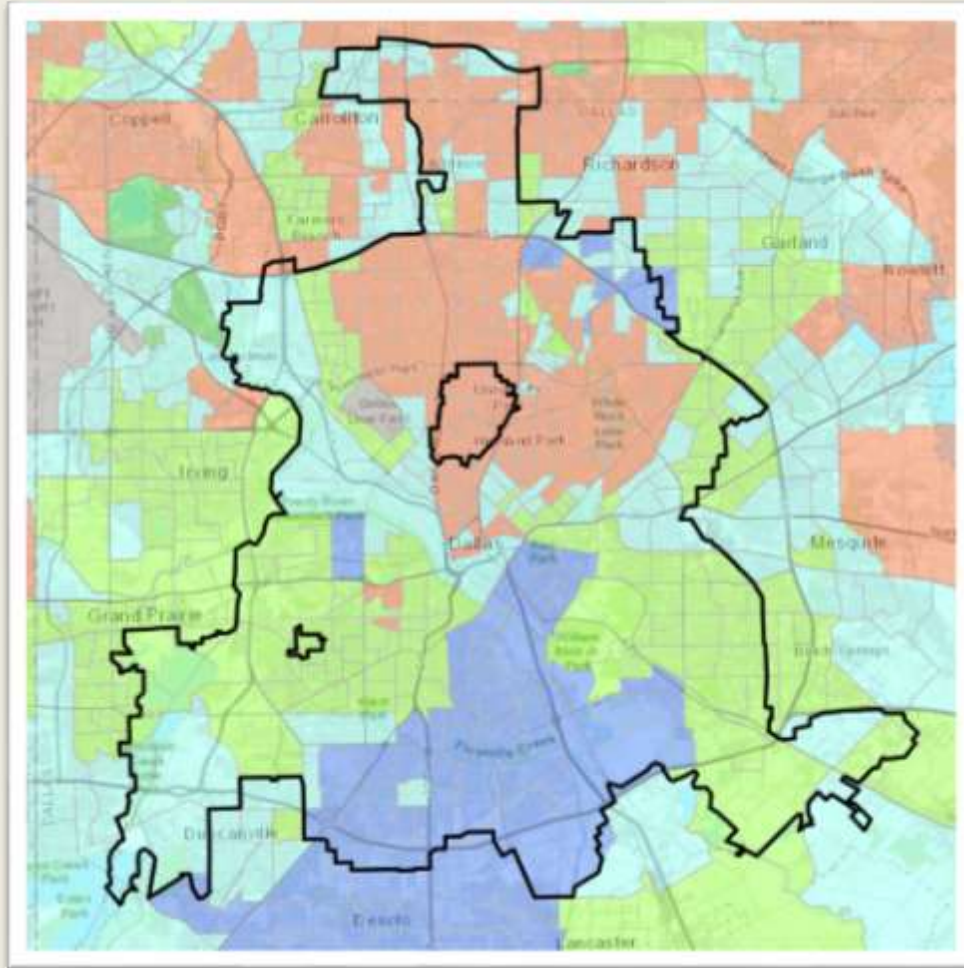

Our People Are Segregated, Too

- More than one-half of White residents live in a White neighborhood; about 3% live in a Black neighborhood. Asian residents are far more likely to live in diverse neighborhoods (almost one-half). Whites don't live in Black or Latinx neighborhoods, and Black and Latinx residents don't live in White neighborhoods.

RACIAL & ETHNIC IDENTITY OF NEIGHBORHOODS OF RESIDENCE

My Neighborhood Is Not Your Neighborhood. . .

The bottom line is that 54% of Dallas residents live in neighborhoods with others like them, and these neighborhoods are geographically segregated. It's quite possible that I may never know what your neighborhood is like, and vice-versa.

Access to Goods and Services

The typical White neighborhood in Dallas can access more than six grocery, drug, and clothing stores within a 30-minute transit ride. The typical Black neighborhood can access 1.4.

Getting to Work

Residents living in diverse neighborhoods can access 17-times the number of jobs within a 30-minute transit ride. Residents in Black neighborhoods have access to an average of 2,500 jobs, while those in diverse neighborhoods can access more than 43,000.

What Does It Mean for Us Today?

We need to look beyond the margins and see what and where it's really happening. Moreover, we need innovative solutions that address the root causes of the disparities we see today. You can shape the conversation today.

For More Information

Dr. Timothy M. Bray

Institute for Urban Policy Research
The University of Texas at Dallas

800 West Campbell Road, WT20
Richardson, Texas 75080

V: 972-883-5430

F: 972-883-5431

timothy.bray@utdallas.edu

<http://iupr.utdallas.edu>

@timothy_bray

SlideShare www.slideshare.net/TimothyBray

